Press the menu button on the TV or remote to see if the menu appears on the screen. Please click one of the following links below to have a servicer come to your location. To check this, simply log into your Netflix account on your PC or phone and make sure that nothing is wrong with your account. If the application is running the background of a phone or tablet, you will not be able to watch Netflix on your TV. It is a good idea to disconnect the devices you are not using to allow for additional bandwidth. Check from the TV's physical location to get an accurate internet bandwidth available to the TV. If your router is set up to use various IP addresses or you are using a proxy server, your Netflix account will not work. <http://www.aeok.org/uploads/design-manual-for-use-of-bioretenention-in-stormwater-management.xml>

You can check to see if a new firmware is available by visiting www.SharpUSA.com. The quicker the ping time which includes upload and download speed and time, the faster your TV will connect to Netflix. If you are not sure of your ping time, please go to www.speedtest.net on your computer or mobile phone to check. Click here links to How do I reset my Netflix Account to learn more about resetting your Netflix account on your TV. If the signal strength is less than 3 bars, your router will need to be moved closer to the TV. You can also try resetting the router. We suggest for best results that the TV have a signal strength of 3 or more bars and is less than 15 feet with no obstructed views, such as multiple walls from the TV. Follow the steps below to fix the issue This setting allows only certain devices to connect to the wireless network. If you are using this option, either disable this feature or add the TV's MAC address to the list of connected devices. This should only be done temporarily and for testing purposes. If the wired connection works, the router may be defective and may need to be serviced. Please contact the routers manufacturer for more information.
